

SUMMARY STATEMENT

State of Idaho v. John Alan Schulz, No. 37354

The Supreme Court affirmed the district court's dismissal of charges against John Schulz for felony domestic battery and attempted strangulation of his 15-year-old daughter. The Court held that she was not a "household member" as required for both charges because the definition of that term only extends to those in an intimate relationship with the offender.