

SUMMARY STATEMENT

State of Idaho v. Two Jinn, Inc., Docket No. 37933

In a 5-0 opinion, the Idaho Supreme Court, on a petition for review from the Court of Appeals, affirmed the decision of the district court to uphold bond forfeiture and to deny a motion to exonerate that bond. The Supreme Court ruled that the contract law defense of impossibility of performance was inapplicable to the bond agreement between Two Jinn and Navarro, who was deported while out on bail and unable to return to Idaho for his court appearance.
