PER CURIAM

Samantha Jolene Urbach was found guilty of possession of a controlled substance. I.C. § 37-2732(c). The district court sentenced Urbach to a unified term of seven years, with a minimum period of confinement of two years. The district court retained jurisdiction and, following successful completion of Urbach’s rider, suspended her sentence and placed her on probation. Urbach appeals, arguing that the district court should have sua sponte reduced her suspended sentence and the length of her probation.

Sentencing is a matter for the trial court’s discretion. Both our standard of review and the factors to be considered in evaluating the reasonableness of the sentence are well established and need not be repeated here. See State v. Hernandez, 121 Idaho 114, 117-18, 822 P.2d 1011, 1014-15 (Ct. App. 1991); State v. Lopez, 106 Idaho 447, 449-51, 680 P.2d 869, 871-73 (Ct. App. 1984); State v. Toohill, 103 Idaho 565, 568, 650 P.2d 707, 710 (Ct. App. 1982). When reviewing the length of a sentence, we consider the defendant's entire sentence. State v. Oliver, 144 Idaho 722, 726, 170 P.3d 387, 391 (2007).

Applying these standards, and having reviewed the record in this case, we cannot say that the district court abused its discretion in not modifying the original sentence or in placing Urbach on probation for seven years. Therefore, Urbach's judgment of conviction and suspended sentence are affirmed.
