

SUMMARY STATEMENT

Gerdon v. ConPaulos, Docket No. 43234-2015

The Idaho Supreme Court affirmed the order of the Industrial Commission. This is an appeal from an order of the Industrial Commission holding that a worker injured in an industrial accident had failed to prove that he was entitled to benefits for psychological care. Because the Commission's decision was based upon its constitutional right to weigh the evidence and determine the credibility of conflicting expert opinions, we affirm the order of the Commission.
